Our partnership with Mace over the last five years has really shown how two organisations can make a bigger difference together than they could alone. Mace have done so much, from driving forward our construction skills workshops and courses, to transforming one of our care homes, to offering job opportunities to our clients – which is exactly the sort of empowering support we want to provide. Mace's positive and influential impact on St Mungo's and our clients will be felt for years. We are deeply grateful for their dedication to ending homelessness.
